

Clock Land

Felix and Felicity, jumped back into their spaceship and flew away. "That was so much fun!", said Felix.

"Let's go on another adventure!" said Felicity happily.

Felix pointed to an interesting land. It was called "Clock Land." Let's go there!" said Felix. Felicity nodded and off they went to Clock Land.

Felicity landed in the middle of Clock Land and Felix gasped. "Oh no, that little clock is crying! Let's help him", said Felicity. Felix and Felicity walked up to the clock. "What's your name, little clock?" asked Felix. The clock sniffled and answered, "My name is Timmy-Time. Can you help me? I've lost my long arm!

Felix and Felicity both looked at each other and nodded. They started walking around trying to find Timmy-Time's long arm. They were walking forward and fell into a huge gap! Timmy-Time ran over and saw Felicity holding his long arm! Timmy-Time threw some rocks down the gap, and they climbed up.

Felix put in Timmy-Time's long arm and Timmy-Time thanked both of them.

They were all happy afterwards. Felix and Felicity said bye to Timmy-Time.
