

Felix and Felicity's Spaghetti Situation

After Felix and Felicity's adventure in the land of sweets they were hungry but for food not for sweets. The problem was they didn't know where they were. "I've got an idea!" said Felix. "Let's climb that toffee tree to see where we are" Felix points over to the biggest toffee tree around them, he climbs up it in a hurry. Felicity scrambles up behind him. Felix steps on something that doesn't feel quite right. Felix yells and gives Felicity a big fright, and they fall into the portal.

"Aaaaah not again!" screams Felicity. They stood up, looked around them and discovered that they were on a planet made entirely out of pasta! In a few seconds they were greeted by a short, round, Italian chef and his mozzarella minions carrying heaped bowls of different dishes. The chef asked them if they were hungry and they said "Yes we're very hungry!"

Then the chef asked them if they wanted some "gorgonzola gnocchi?" "What's that?" asked Felicity. "It's blue Cheese!" Said the chef happily. "Ew Stinky cheese!" they shouted and ran off.

The chef wasn't happy about this. He chased after them throwing his blue cheese gnocchi at them! The mozzarella minions followed throwing all types of pastas at them. Felix and Felicity were still hungry but they didn't like any of the pastas but there was something they did like - mozzarella! As they were running they saw a portal! Before they got to the portal they grabbed a mozzarella minion each. They ran and jumped into the portal, they had secured their snack and could eat it peacefully in the portal.

"Mmmmm this is good!" said Felicity. "You're right! This is good!" said Felix as he took a big bite. They finished their mozzarella and travelled through space and time fueled up for their next adventure!
