REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA

HUMAN RIGHTS DAY

“Working together to protect human dignity for all”

South Africa's Human Rights Journey

The life sacrifices of the heroes and heroines of the Sharpeville Massacre laid a significant foundation for the establishment of a society-based on democratic values, social justice and fundamental human rights. These rights are now enshrined in our Constitution, Bill of Rights of the Constitution, and include the rights to:

- Equality
- Human dignity
- Freedom of expression
- Assembly, demonstration, picket and petition
- Freedom of association; and
- Freedom of movement and residence.

Our Constitution guarantees the rights of every South African and the Bill of Rights, is instrumental in realising the democratic values of human dignity, equality and freedom. It ensures the rights of all people in South Africa to live in unity, peace and harmony without fear of intimidation or threats.

We therefore call on all South Africans to join us in celebrating Human Rights Day on 21 March 2011.
