1. OVERVIEW

AccountingOfficer:

Corefunctionsandresponsibilities

SocialSecuritySafetyNet

This function has to do with the provision of a cash benefit to the monthly household income of people to prevent them from becoming poor(er). The department is obliged to pay a number of social grants to beneficiaries who legally qualify for these grants. The department pays the following grants on a yearly basis to approximately310000personswhoqualify:

Fostercaregrant Childsupportgrant Oldagepension Warveteran'spension Grant-in-aid Disabilitygrant Caredependencygrant Socialrelief

DevelopmentalSocialServiceDelivery

This function has to do with the responsibility that the department has to render developmental welfare services to those people who, because of circumstances, find it difficult to fulfil their welfare needs on their own. The department does not do this all by itself. It performs this function in partnership with other government departments, local authorities, private welfare agencies and a range of non-governmental organisations. Animportant aspectof the way in which social services are delivered, is that its hould be done in a developmental manner. In other words, social services must be delivered in a way that makes it possible for peopletod raw on their ownstrengths, and be nurtured and supported as the ytry to reach and maintain

Vision

SupportFunctions

SocialResearchandStrategicPlanning

This function provides a scientific information base and strategic direction that is required by the other units in the organisation to perform their daily tasks. It provides, for instance, information of where the poorest communities in the province are which makes it possible to make decisions on where welfare services need to be rendered. It also had to ensure that aspects that affect the population as a whole are included in all the policies and programmes of, not only the department, but all other provincial departments. In addition, it provides the strategic frameworkforthedepartmentonayearlyandfive-yearlybasis.

Financialmanagement

The department has to make sure that it spends its money that it receives on a yearly basis, well. It must make sure that the budget of the department is distributed in such a way that there is enough money for each of the units in the department to do their work. It needs to make sure that there is stationary, telephones, photocopiers, and other administrative systems in place so that staff have the necessary tools to do their work. It must also make sure that all the financial transactions of the department are done in the correct manner so that fraud and corruption does not occur. Regular inspections of all the transactions are

Humanresourcemanagement

No organisation can function without motivated and well-trained staff to execute its functions on a daily basis. This support function has to do with the appointment of appropriate staff, the monthly payment of staff, the training and development of staff, as well as labour relations and the management of disciplinary procedures.

Customerservices

This function relates to the functioning of the 14 district offices and eight institutions of the department. This is the implementation arm of the department where policies, programmes and projects are implemented, monitoredandevaluated. It is usually on this level where customers first make contact with the department.

2. REVIEW2001/02

Over the past five years the department focused on developing its organisational structure in such a manner that it improves the capacity of the department to render services with a customer focus. The department has made great strides in eliminating inequality in its service rendering, building community capacity, and in establishing civil participation structures. It also, in line with its transformation priorities, made attempts to establishamoredevelopmentalfocusinthesocialservicedeliverysystemoftheprovince.

It succeeded in remaining within its budget allocation every year since 1995. Traditionally, the department's spending patterns were characterised by the majority of its allocation being spent on social security. This left the department with only a small proportion of its budget available for the funding of own services and also welfare agencies who render social services in partnership with the government. Past trends showed that up to 89% of the department's financial allocation was spent on social security which left it with only 11% to be spent on other services. The department, as of the last financial year, succeeded in bringing social security spending downto85%. This, however, still eaves the allocation available for the reviced elivery glaringly in adequate.

There was also no real increase in the department's budget. Increases over the past five year only provided for an inflator as it relates to the annual increases in pensions and grants. In effect, the funds available for spendingonotherwelfareservicesdecreased.

Despitethesebudgetaryconstraintsthedepartmentsucceededinattaininganumberofachievements.

The department funded a total of 1 335 welfare agencies and 37 poverty/state maintenance grant projects during the previous financial year. This amounted to R229 million. The 37 projects targeted approximately 10 000beneficiaries.

Due to savings effected the department was able to increase the subsidy to social welfare organisations during the previous financial year. The fact that this represented the first increase of this nature in six years was of significancetoboththedepartmentanditspartnersinsocialwelfareservicedelivery.

The restructuring of the head office of the department was finalised during the year under review. Significant progress has also been made with the restructuring of the district offices in as far as the head of the departmentapprovedthefinal report on how this would be achieved.

In respect of fraud and other irregularities, 14 cases of fraud to the value of R126 394,39 were successfully prosecutedduringthe2000/01financialyear.Thedepartmentinvestigatedandsubmitted70%ofatotalof274 casesofallegedfraudandcorruptiontotherelevantprosecutingauthorities.

Otherachievementsincludethefollowing:

Through analysis of the 1996 census data, the department could determine provincial socio-economic trends thatincludedgender, disability, economic activity, education and age distributions.

Multi-purpose centres were established in Van Rhynsdorp, Waboomskraal, and Langa bringing the total numberofcentresintheprovinceto13.

Horizon Youth Care Centre, a secure care facility for youth in conflict with the law, has been established and isfullyoperational.

The child abuse protocol is fully operational in all districts and will be reinforced by a neighbourhood responseprogramme.

The department succeeded in exceeding its nationally-determined target for those benefiting from the Child SupportGrant.

The successful implementation of a computerised pay-out system (ALLPAY) to the benefit of 285 000 social grantbeneficiaries.

Thesuccessful completion of the registration project for 310000 social grant beneficiaries.

The development of service delivery standards that is aimed at improving both the quality and efficiency with whichsocialwelfareservices are rendered.

The establishment of a new district office in Eerste River has enabled the department to locate itself closer to those indireneed of social welfare services.

The successful marketing and implementation of the State Maintenance Grant Beneficiary Safety Net and Diversion Programme has ensured that safety net programmes are in place to reduce the impact of the suspensionofthegrant.

3. OUTLOOKFOR2002/03

The Department of Social Services continually strives to improve the way in which it renders social services in the province. This is always done in an attempt to bring the department ever closer to the realisation of its visionandmission.

The executive management of the department adopted five strategic themes after initiating a new planning framework in the department. These themes will guide the way in which the department functions and delivers itsservicestothepoor, the vulnerable, and those with special needs.

Thefivestrategicthemesareasfollows:

- Socialservicedeliveryisintegrated.
- Socialservicesareaccessible.
- Appropriatesocialservicesareinplace.
- Thedepartmentdeliverssocialservicesofahighstandard.
- Sufficientandappropriatelyskilledhumanresourcesforenhancedservicedelivery.

The five themes represent a customer-driven focus in the department. The ultimate goal to be achieved by these themes is the provision of a social safety net to those who require state assistance with self-actualisation – the primary customers of the department. The focus on the needs of its customers will drive the department'sfunctioningoverthenextfiveyears.

The budget of the department for the next financial year and further four consecutive years will reflect this customer-drivenfocus.ltwillfindexpressionintheoperationalplansofalltheunitswithinthedepartment.

In order to have a greater impact on the beneficiaries of its services, the department needs to restructure its internal functioning to reflect an integrated approach to service delivery. It also needs to foster greater integration with national and provincial departments within the framework of national and provincial priorities. Service delivery takes effect on grassroots level and, hence, integration with local authorities and a multitude of welfare agencies is of equal importance. The new planning framework of the department will ensure that forward planning becomes entrenched in the department. This will promote the integrated approach through the organisation. The design of a provincial population development plan that will cut across all departments

In order for its services to become more accessible to those who require it, the department will embark on a number of initiatives. It will strive to ensure a sufficient spread of social services throughout the province, especially in terms of the availability of services in rural areas. It will also initiate discussions with labour and social service partners in an attempt to make services available after-hours. Accessibility also entails language accessibility. Many of the department's points of service delivery are not accessible to Xhosa-speaking customers. This matter will be addressed through the procurement of human resources. The department will also attempt to improve its infrastructure to become more customer-friendly. Marketing and communication is requiredtoinformbeneficiariesandpotentialbeneficiariesofwhatkindofsocialservicesaretotheirdisposal.

A number of outputs will be put in place to ensure that communities are well-informed about the services that the department can render. All points of service delivery will have to be optimally resourced to enhance the capacitytorenderaccessibleservicesontheoperationallevel.

In order to ensure that appropriate or adequate social services are delivered, the department will continue its drive to implement new or sustaining existing functions, programmes and projects aimed at poverty alleviation. Policy frameworks will have to be put in place to ensure that there is a framework for what constitutes appropriate services. Staff will also have to be trained to be able to implement these policies and best practice models. Service standards will be implemented for the head office of the department, its district offices and institutions. This will provide a monitoring mechanism to test the appropriateness of services. Specific challengesforthenewyeararethefollowing:

Thechildsupportgrant.

HIV/AIDS.

ImplementingtheDistrictmodel.

Establishingaruralsecurecarecenter.

ExpandingtheMulti-PurposeCenterstootherareas.

Computerisationoftheregistries.

AppropriateaccommodationforHeadOfficeinonebuilding.

The department has already initiated a programme to establish minimum standards of service delivery. This programme will be implemented and refined over the next five years. The introduction of norms and standards will enhance the quality of services rendered by the department and its stakeholders. The implementation of these norms and standards will be closely monitored. The minimum standards will also have to be communicated to communities so that they know what they can expect from the department in terms of its servicedelivery. Theywillalsoplayaroleinthemonitoringandevaluationoftheseservicestandards.

The department has a staff component of 1 574. Human resources are the vehicle through which the strategic objectives will be achieved. It is therefore crucial that they should possess appropriate competencies and skills to achieve the outputs expected of them. A skills audit and skills gap analysis will be conducted whereafter appropriate training programmes will be developed and implemented.

We are confident about the commitment of staff to give effect to these strategic themes through their daily operations. These efforts will ultimately contribute to the building of the Western Cape Province and also the nation.
